Pathway Volleyball Tournament

The Pathway tournament was a great experience for me. I learned a lot of things that will help me next year. We grew closer as a team in each game we played. Even though we only got 4th place, we felt like winner on the inside. We played our hardest out on the court, and it was my favorite part of the season. My favorite game we played was against Omaha Lightning. We had an intense couple matches against them. We stepped it up and gave them a difficult task to accomplish. We were neck and neck, but they ended up winning the game. It was definitely a super fun weekend.

As the smell of harvesting and autumn breezes hit your nose, you know that fall is here. Along with fall comes the Pathway Tournament. On September 30th our annual Pathway Volleyball Tournament took place. The girls started out strong against QCCS and then had an intense game against the Omaha Warriors. Early Saturday morning the girls played hard against Rockford Fire and Omaha Lightning with two close games. These games put the Pathway ladies in the 3rd and 4th place game against the Rockford Fire team. This was a very exciting game with Pathway getting 4th. This year's Pathway Tournament was definitely full of friends, fun and excitement, and will not be soon forgotten.

Fall Party!!!

This year's fall party was really fun, because we played some new games including food in a bag, which was really fun, unless you got nasty food. So you would this was one of the best fall parties we ever had.

Quentin Road Tournament

As always the Chicago Tournament was a blast. The games were a little different since we played one match to twenty-five instead of playing two matches. But we adjusted to that. We played eight games on Friday, then on Saturday we played several more. During the tournament many memories were made. Chicago was probably one of my favorite tournaments.

Chicago was a blast for me this year even though I was just a fan. Shelby, Kendal, Maria, Payton, and I left early while the volleyball girls were still practicing, and somehow the team still beat us to the hotel. When we were on the trip to the hotel we were listening to some awesome music, and Shelby just couldn't help himself. He started drumming on the steering wheel and using his air guitar while not paying attention to the road. Thankfully, Payton was paying attention and he started yelling at Shelby, because we were practically playing chicken with a semi. After thanking Payton for saving our lives, we settled down and finally got to the hotel right after the team did. We went to bed decently early for being away from our parents, so we could cheer Pathway on the next day. After we woke up and ate breakfast, we rushed over to the tournament thinking we were late because Maria woke up at 10:02, and Pathway's first game was at 10:30. After we got there, we cheered our heads off, even though there were only about eight of us cheering. Pathway did okay on some games, and we won a couple games both on Friday and Saturday. The nights at the hotel were really fun and the food was really good. One restaurant we ate at was 5 Guys, which had amazing hamburgers. Some of the girls thought it would have been weird to eat there because it was called 5 Guys, but I really liked it. The trip home was fun, but one of the best parts about the tournament was cheering Pathway on.

Editor's Corner

What is the first thing that pops in your head when you hear of the month November? For me I would say basketball, but that's not what the month of November is about. The month of November is supposed to be a month to remind us to be thankful. That always hits me, because it is really hard to be thankful sometimes, such as when things don't go right for me in school, or just in life sometimes. Now I don't know about you, but I could name of a lot of things that make me unhappy. So as we go through this month of November, let's not forget to be thankful even when we don't feel like it.

"Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and his courts with praise; give thanks to him and praise his name.." Psalms 100:4

Who makes it, has no need of it,
Who buys it, has no use for it,
Who uses it, can neither see nor feel it.

What is it?

The answer for last month's riddle was a hearse, and Shane Graber was the first one to get it right.

The first person to guess the riddle correctly will have their name published in the next newsletter. Give your guesses to Kendal, maximum of three guess. Good Luck
